

SOUS CHEF

Full Time

13 Stowe Street, Waterbury, Vermont

Dependent on experience

Welcome to Stone's Throw, where artisanal pizzas meet crafted beverages in a unique and delightful setting! We take pride in our gourmet pizza kitchen, where every pizza is a masterpiece and our cherished dough recipes have been passionately perfected through years. Now, we are on the lookout for a skilled sous chef to join our team and elevate the dining experience at our Waterbury location.

Responsibilities:

- Manage and rotate products to ensure freshness and quality, including order placement in kitchen manager's absence
- Oversee the preparation and production of products, ensuring adherence to recipes and high-quality standards
- Maintain a clean and safe kitchen environment in compliance with health department and OSHA regulations
- Keep kitchen documentation up to date and promptly report any relevant information
- Communicate with other management through various channels regarding product issues and sourcing
- Train entry-level team members in essential skills, monitor progress, and report to kitchen manager
- Lead and guide the back of house team during service preparation and execution in kitchen manager's absence
- Assist with inventory counting, assessments, and invoice tracking

Qualifications:

- Proficiency in all areas of food preparation and execution
- Ability to prepare and cook items to recipe specifications with a high degree of consistency
- Kitchen management experience preferred.

Benefits of working at Stone's Throw:

- Competitive compensation
- Paid sick time for all team members
- 401k retirement plan for eligible employees
- Opportunities for professional growth to help you climb the ladder
- A supportive and passionate team
- And did we mention free pizza? Because yes, that's part of the deal!

At Stone's Throw, we believe in more than just crafting exceptional pizzas and beverages – we are dedicated to creating a positive and dynamic work culture. Our team is fueled by enthusiasm, expertise, and a shared love for delivering top-quality service. Joining us means becoming a part of a team that values creativity, collaboration, and a genuine passion for what we do.

CLICK HERE TO APPLY